

Envision Conference Student Scholarships

Envision is pleased to announce the availability of two Envision Conference Student Scholarships. Each scholarship will be awarded to either a full-time student studying clinical areas of low vision rehabilitation (optometry, ophthalmology, occupational therapy, orientation and mobility, low vision therapy), or a PhD candidate specializing in research related to low vision applications or clinical outcomes. Scholarships cover cost of full registration, but do not include travel or hotel expenses.

To be considered for an Envision Conference Student Scholarship, submit your current curriculum vitae, a letter of reference from at least one professor or clinical supervisor, the attached application, and a one-page narrative explaining your interest in the low vision rehabilitation or research fields, outlining the benefit the Envision Conference would have on your educational and career objectives. All applications are due by April 15, 2012. Notification of acceptance will occur by June 10, 2012.
